MOVING HORIZONS

MILANO, ITALY | MARCH 24-28, 2017

www.milanomasterclass.it

Dear Colleague, Dear Friend,

We are delighted to invite you to the 9th Milano Masterclass (MiMa), March 24-28, 2017 for a stellar educational program.

Over the past 8 biennial editions, almost 4000 participants from 87 countries have witnessed the rise of MiMa into a meeting of truly global significance. We are proud to see that MiMa formula for quality education has been copied as a model for meetings worldwide.

The 2017 edition promises to push the boundaries of our knowledge to new frontiers. Ten hottest controversies will be discussed and debated by world leaders from a multi-specialty Faculty. From Friday the 24th until Tuesday the 28th, top-notch experts will present their cutting edge techniques that will supplement your armamentarium of accessible solutions for both common and atypical challenges.

Each day's teaching and interaction will feature video-panels, case-discussion arenas, technically-focused lectures, masters' duels from opposite standpoints, video blast sessions, selected oral and video abstract presentations, and spirited discussion on controversies.

The programme has been specifically designed for both newcomers and experienced surgeons. While younger surgeons will be taught the fundamentals of safe and reproducible surgery, senior colleagues will have the opportunity to refresh their ideas in critically important matters.

Each segment can be registered for separately or taken together for a reduced fee.

Milan leads the world in its wealth of cultural heritage, such as the Duomo and Da Vinci's Last Supper, challenges the fashion industry to keep up with its constant sense of innovation, produces cutting edge technology for the car industry, and delights the senses due to its superlative cuisine.

We look forward to seeing you again, and welcoming our new friends.

Arrivederci,

Paolo Castelnuovo & Pietro Palma

MiMa Directors

THE 2x10 SURGEON'S DILEMMAS

SEGMENT #1 March 24-26, 2017

ENDOMILANO Sinus | Skullbase | Orbit

Director: Paolo Castelnuovo

- 1 | The warning signs of the impending failure of FESS. "I should not have operated on that patient..."
- 2 | Everyday surgical encounters. Key technical refinements to improve outcomes.
- 3 | The latest and greatest techniques in extended or modified endonasal approaches to the frontal sinus.
- 4 | A newfangled method of thinking and executing maxillectomies and transmaxillary approaches.
- 5 | Cutting-edge CSF-leaks closure techniques. The experts tell what truly works.
- 6 | Critical operative steps in safely handling inverted papillomas, JNA and FOLS.
- 7 | Sinonasal and skull-base malignancies: could histologically-oriented treatment be a potentially revolutionizing management modality? The endosurgeon's perspective.
- 8 | Sella, parasellar, clivus and beyond: novel vistas on technical solutions.
- 9 | Incorporating endoscopic orbital surgery into your armamentarium. Patients' benefits and the endosurgeon's bottom line.
- 10 | The trans-boundaries of the skull base. The practicalities of the multiportal approaches.

SEGMENT #2 March 26-28, 2017

MILANO RHINOPLASTY X Files Unveiled

Director: Pietro Palma

- 1 | The experts' toolbox open for the early-career rhinoplasty surgeons.
- 2 | The roulette of crooked/deviated noses. Getting them straight the first time.
- 3 | Navigating the problematic primary dorsum. 5 points to consider.
- 4 | Grafting in primary rhinoplasty. To be or not to be.
- 5 | Beautifying the difficult primary tip. Secrets to success.
- 6 | Seven short noses and how we made them longer.
- 7 | The basal view: multiple advanced techniques for caudal septum, columella, alae and valves.
- 8 | The mystique of the inverted-V deformity. What we know; what we don't know; and what we exactly do.
- 9 | Mastering surgical control of dorsal augmentation. Which technique is best?
- 10 | The Midas touch. Further rhinoplasty finesses.
